Volusia County Tax Collector branches to close July 2-3 for Independence Day holiday

Volusia County, Fla. – All Volusia County Tax Collector branches will be closed Thurs., July 2, and Fri., July 3, in observance of the Independence Day holiday. Branches will reopen Mon., July 6, during normal business hours.

The Office's July 2-3 closure follows Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis' June 12 announcement extending the Independence Day holiday period for state agencies as America celebrates its 250th anniversary.

While Volusia County Tax Collector offices will reopen Mon., July 6, some state agencies and offices that support Tax Collector services will remain closed that day. As a result, customers with transactions requiring assistance, verification or approval from a state agency may be asked to return once those agencies resume normal operations.

Customers are encouraged to complete eligible transactions online at VolusiaTax.gov/online before the holiday closure. Many motor vehicle, vessel, driver license and tax-related services are available online 24 hours a day.
